

Co-Founding Chief Operations Officer (m/f/x)

Mimetik is revolutionizing human-machine interactions. Since the stone age, people have used tools to work more effectively. With the increasing complexity of devices and machines, intuitive interaction became more and more important. With a strong team of top-notch engineers from all over the world and the support of the Technical University of Dresden, Mimetik combines artificial intelligence with the tactile internet. We are developing an interface that disrupts long-established time- and labor-intensive learning processes of employees in various industries.

As Co-Founder and Chief Operations Officer (m/f/x), you will join the team in Dresden and together with your co-founders, you will build a high-performing organization, manage daily operations (e.g., product, marketing, finance, HR) and define and execute the strategy. Alongside your expertise and managerial skills, you still love to roll up your sleeves and support the team hands-on in all strategic, operational, product, marketing, and finance-related tasks. Your strategic knowledge, execution skillset, and “can-do” attitude are mission-critical to further develop Mimetik.

What is waiting for you at our venture?

- As co-founding Chief Operations Officer (m/f/x), you will take over full responsibility for the company's business operations and become part of the management team
- With your vision and excellent leadership, you are in full charge of setting up the organization and bringing it to market. You manage daily operations leading to outstanding sales figures of a world-class product
- With your visionary, creative and innovative leadership, you will prepare and take over client and, subsequently, revenue growth through outstanding user experience
- You cultivate a high-performance environment thriving on excellence by constantly improving the entire teams' capabilities through active empowerment, coaching, mentoring, and recruiting of top talent
- Staying on top latest trends in human-interface-devices is part of your innovation-based DNA. You are well informed about the latest industry trends and strategies and let your vision influence by it - though you are wise enough to not jump on any trend there is
- Together with your team, you create a dynamic, engaging, and authentic customer experience that reflects our Venture as a company and successfully bonds with their business partners and end-customers

What we are looking for:

- A brave and mission-driven Co-Founder and Chief Operations Officer (m/f/x) ready to face a lot of obstacles on the way to ultimate success. Giving up is not an option
- An excellent academic background. Preferably a mix of technology and business in e.g. Economics, Computer Science, Mechanical, Electrical, or Industrial Engineering, Bioinformatics or other sciences
- Strong commercial experience, i.e., several years of leadership experience in a fast paced, agile tech environment, consulting firm, or at a venture capital funded start-up
- Ideally, you have experience as a founder or early employee in a science-driven hardware/software company
- You will need to be a curious leader combining your natural gravitas with strong analytical and great communication skills

- No matter the field, you have proven yourself in the past and can clearly show why you will be successful in the future
- Different business ideas demand different backgrounds and characteristics. Therefore, we are looking for diverse candidates that do not necessarily fit the standard, but unquestionably aim for the stars